Group Lessons

In preparation of the Fall Recital, our group lessons will be on September 22 and 23. In these lessons, your child will have the opportunity to perform before his/her peers in a comfortable setting, be introduced to composers' lives and music, and review music theory taught during the lesson. Remember, there are no private lessons the week that group lessons are scheduled.

Group lessons begin and end on time. If you arrive early, please have your child wait on the porch until his/her designated time. For safety reasons, drop off and pick up your child promptly. Held at the studio, only piano students may attend. Feel free to wait in the parking lot or take advantage of an hour of “free-time.” ☺

Lessons are planned and groups are determined based on your child's prior knowledge and age. If s/he can't attend the assigned session, please call to find another suitable group.

Bravo!

Josh Sahagun was hired as a substitute pianist for St. Ann's Church in Byron while their regular pianist was away. He impressed everyone and I'm so very proud of him! This is just an example of how young pianists can earn a little extra income. There are 2 qualities people look for in hiring subs: the ability to sightread music accurately and the ability to keep going even if a mistake is made. Great job Josh!

Fall Recital

Our recital is held on Saturday, October 24. The formal recital will take place at the Brentwood Community United Methodist Church at 809 2nd Street. In order to keep the length of the recital less than an hour, there are two performance times, 4:30 and 5:45pm. Please let me know if you prefer a specific time.
